POINTS OF PRIDE

FALL 2024

Student activities are an integral part of our educational program. Co-curricular programs are not only a way for students to have fun, but also a valuable educational tool. Activities provide an opportunity for all students to participate and help build community recognition and identity. Co-curricular activities are designed to instill school pride and teach life-long lessons. They support the academic mission of the school district and promote citizenship and sportsmanship. The activities program is a testing ground for the physical and emotional development of our young people.

IT IS BETTER TO BUILD STRONG CHILDREN THAN TRY TO REPAIR ADULTS.

Pottstown School District is proud of its past and confident of its future.

Go to <http://www.pottstownschoools.org/AlumniPages.aspx> and then click on any of the highlighted years. The yearbooks provide an engaging narrative into the proud history of Pottstown. One can go as far back as 1914 to see the interest and fashion of the day. Pottstown School District may be one of a few districts in the country to provide this unique feature as a way of sharing community pride in our schools. Pottstown High School has over 22,000 graduates who have gone on to distinguish themselves in every field of endeavor and given us reason to say Proud to be from Pottstown. It is an honor to share this look back to younger days with our graduates. We are not posting our most recent yearbooks because the High School still has some hard copies for sale. Not every yearbook is posted. The missing years are listed on the website. If anyone is willing to lend us one for scanning, please contact John Armato at 610-323-6271 / 484-256-7491 or jarmato@pottstownk12.org.

After the game, first year head coach Katie Rauenzahn said, "From the beginning of the season, we set high expectations on eligibility, attendance at school and practice, respect for teammates, and good sportsmanship. I'm proud to say the players showed their commitment by working hard to meet the expectations. I hope they are proud of themselves because, I am very proud of what they have accomplished. They combined their skills with a strong work ethic, teamwork, communication, and perseverance. Today they were able to capitalize on all of their hard work and the results were shown on the scoreboard. I am proud to coach this team of Trojan student athletes."

Goals were scored by: Aaliyah Fraelich-Johnson (3 goals), Taraji Brown (2 goals), Kobe Lewis-Lesher, Brooke Laise, Ezra King, and Maddison Sheldon

Trojan field hockey takes road trip for future success

Pottstown Trojan field hockey players from both the high school and middle school took a road trip to Kutztown University where they were able to watch a college game played at Andre Reed Stadium between Kutztown and Mansfield University. After watching two highly skilled teams play, all of the Trojan players were invited to come down to the field, and speak to the players. The team heard firsthand from college student athletes what is required to be successful at the collegiate level both on the field and in the classroom. Our team walked away from a highly successful day, being inspired to continue to prepare themselves for success at the next level in the classroom and on the field. A big thanks to Kutztown University and their field hockey team for hosting us and helping to encourage the next generation of successful young adults. Thank you to our coaches for creating an opportunity for students to expand their knowledge and prepare for the future. Another reason to say, proud to be from Pottstown.

STAFF and DISTRICT HIGHLIGHTS

Elementary Teacher Making Waves

Trojan Proud of Rupert Elementary teacher, Miss Becca Cubbler who competed in the US Swimming Masters competition held in Indianapolis. She returned home from the five-day competition with a national championship in the women's 400 m Individual Medley which requires a swimmer to use all four competitive strokes on consecutive lengths of the race (Butterfly, Backstroke, Breaststroke and Freestyle).

Her time of 4:42.27 earned a first-place national championship in the 25-29 age group and a second-place overall women in the competition. She also competed in the 1000 m freestyle event where she took first place in both her age group and overall with a time of 10:46.70.

Miss Cubbler is no stranger to a swimming pool. She has been making waves ever since her Bloomsburg University days, where she was a standup competitor. Becca takes the same dedication, enthusiasm, passion, and work ethic into the classroom, where she lives up to her school district mission of preparing each student by name for success at every level. She is truly an example of hard work pays off and has given us another reason to say, proud to be from Pottstown.

Superintendent's Award Recognizes Heroes

Lincoln Principal Calista Boyer, a PHS grad, and Middle School Principal Dr. Hector Wangia were presented Superintendent Awards at the school board meeting on September 11th, 2024. A child did not return home and was missing for many hours. With all the passion and zeal they are known for, these two administrators searched the community, worked with the parents, investigated, and did not stop until that child was safely found! They are a credit to their field and another reason we say, "Proud to be from POTTSTOWN!!!"

School Board Members Earn Honor Roll

Pottstown school board members Laura Johnson and Steve Kline were recently recognized with the Pennsylvania School Board Association (PSBA) Honor Roll Award. The association's honor roll program celebrates school board directors for long-term service and recognizes their dedication to their local districts and communities. Board members receive no pay for their service and must be elected by their community. They are responsible for setting the goals and policies that direct staff and administration actions to help prepare the future leaders of our country.

Congratulations to Mrs. Laura Johnson and Mr. Steve Kline on your five years of service. You have both given us more reason to say proud to me from Pottstown.

Mom authors inspirational book in son's memory

Susan Gross, a teaching assistant at Pottstown School District North End Learning Center, has authored her second children's inspirational book in memory of her 30-year-old son, James, who tragically lost his life in a motorcycle accident while traveling around the world as an engineer building rocket tubes for SpaceX.

Her newest book "James, and the Mountain" is based on true events, along with a few twists to enhance the story. Trekking to the top of Mt. Whitney in California, James encounters a wise tree, a grand old buck, and a beastly bear that motivates him to keep going and not to quit. The theme of the book is, when faced with the mountain, do not quit. James struggles at times but he reflects on the many blessings in life and the beauty ahead.

The book is available on Amazon and portions of the proceeds go to his children's education.

Second graders enjoy outdoor learning

Lincoln Elementary second graders paid a visit to Morris Arboretum where they learned some valuable lessons and enjoyed the atmosphere of an outdoor classroom. They observed and discussed how humans, animals and plant life interact and are interdependent upon one another. The trip provided many hands-on learning experiences that both students and teachers enjoyed. When asked how they enjoyed the day one of the students remarked "it was a magical day".

Barth Kindergarten Adventure

Barth Elementary kindergarten students took their first field trip of the year. Pottstown's Children's Discovery Center provided lots of opportunities for adventure. Students enjoyed STEM activities with the water table and LEGO wall, and learned about the journey of food from farm to table. The day concluded with students putting on their own performance in the theater room. Thanks to everybody at the discovery center for helping to make learning a fun experience. Having the learning center right here in our town is another reason to say, "Proud to be from Pottstown."

Bingo Night Big Winners

Young and old alike, everyone was a big winner at Rupert Elementary Grandparent Book Bingo Night. It was an evening of family fun, which helped emphasize the importance of reading and building strong school and family partnerships. Having an outstanding learning opportunity that promotes self-awareness and appreciation for learning right here in our town is more reason to say, "Proud to be from Pottstown."

Student Art Work Shines on Election Day

Thanks to a partnership Montgomery County has with Fresh Artist, a local nonprofit that showcases artwork of public school students, voters will receive one of 45 unique sticker designs that were selected from more than 750 submissions from county students. Students created portraits of themselves as suns with the prompt “my time to shine”.

A Tree Grows In Brooklyn

Well, this post is not about the 1945 novel and it's not about Brooklyn nor one tree. The Pottstown School District in collaboration with nonprofit partner, Save Our Lands, Save Our Towns Incorporated, with the aid of a grant secured from the Pennsylvania Department of Natural Resources and matched with some school district funds will be planting 415 native trees on school district properties. Barth Elementary School was the site of one of the first tree planting projects which incorporated educational lessons for students and hands-on opportunities for tree planting. Students learned how trees help improve air quality, serve as protection from ultraviolet radiation, provide cooling and energy, along with creating habitats for wildlife and beautifying the environment.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Partnership brings innovation and challenge for students

A partnership of the Pottstown School District and Montgomery County Community College will provide a group of Pottstown eighth graders an innovative program that will challenge and build academic abilities and promote interpersonal skills. Montco 360 is an innovative, immersive STEM (science, technology, engineering mathematics) program held on MCCC's Pottstown campus for a group of Pottstown eighth grade students. The college held an open house for students and parents to introduce them to the program and facilities.

The course will be taught by Pottstown Middle School engine/physics/mathematics teacher, Mr. Andy Bachman. The program will focus on problem-solving skills, critical thinking, project development, communications, and much more. Students will spend part of their day on the college campus and have full access to the Challenger Learning Center, Science Sphere classroom and other college facilities. Transportation to and from the college will be by way of the new distinctive Trojan Mobile.

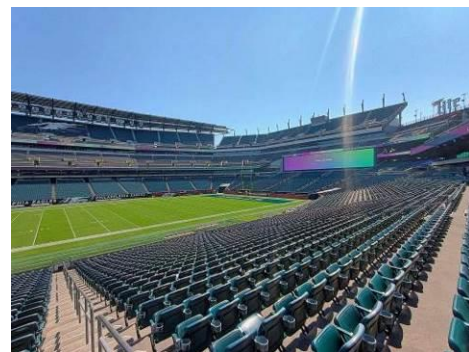

Ryan Oxenford, Director of Curriculum and Educational Programs for the school district said, "We are excited about the educational opportunities that this partnership will provide for our students. They will face academic challenges that call for teamwork, creative thinking, and communication skills. Their experience in Montco 360 will help position them for future success."

Young Players visit The Eagles Nest

Players from the Pottstown Middle School football team, along with members of the JYA Club team, enjoyed an afternoon of behind-the-scenes private tour of Lincoln Financial Field, home of the Philadelphia Eagles. The players and their families were taken on a tour of the locker room, media press room, broadcasting booth where nationally televised games are called, the 50-yard line seats and luxury box suites. They had the opportunity to see the Super Bowl trophy up close and personal. They used the player tunnel entrance that leads to the field. The backstage tour enabled them to see all of the workings that go on on during the NFL game. SNG Catering of Paoli provided a delicious lunch for all participants. Without question the tour was the highlight of their day and will be the topic of discussion with their friends for many days to come.

There's a storm brewing

The next time there is a weather report calling for stormy conditions or a hurricane alert Pottstown Middle School students, who are part of a unique collaborative effort with Montgomery County Community College, will have a better understanding of all of the factors involved. The MONTCO-360 program provides them a classroom at the college, access to many of the unique teaching tools, and guest lectures from college professors.

The class, which is taught by Pottstown teacher Mr. Andrew Bachman, was visited by Montgomery County Community College professor Dominke Merle-Johnson. Exploring the atmospheric ingredients of a hurricane and the role they play in the formation and evolution of a storm, and how each ingredient is measured and investigated by meteorologist, began with a trip to the college Science on a Sphere classroom, which gave students historical data and prospective on hurricanes. Back in the classroom, Dr. Merrell Johnson led the class experiments to determine air pressure. Students had hands-on experience with a sling psychrometer to determine relative humidity and dewpoint. Using the information they had gained during the day, they developed 2-D models, illustrating how hurricanes form.

Mr. Bachman said this class gives students hands-on learning that will increase their understanding of the world around them. We are fortunate to have a partnership with Montgomery County Community College that provides so many academic opportunities.

Students gain Technology Insights

Pottstown Middle School students, members of Montco 360 Project gained valuable knowledge and insights on a recent tour. The Montco 360 Project is a partnership of the Montgomery County Community College and the Pottstown School District, which enables middle school students to experience enhanced learning opportunities in the areas of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM).

Middle school mathematics teacher, Mr. Andy Bachman led the group on a tour of Amphenol - Carlisle Interconnect Technologies (CIT) - Limerick, PA. During the tour, the students interacted with engineers and witnessed a variety of STEM career opportunities available. CIT designs components from scratch, makes each piece, assembles, tests, and ships to customers.

Bachman said, “Students built upon their science knowledge as they learned: how coaxial cables transmit signals, the significance of geometry, and properties of materials. The students quickly realized the importance of quality control because the products they observed are going into space, rockets, and aircraft.” We are thankful to have the college right here in our community and share in our mission to prepare each student, by name, for success at every level. More reason to say “Proud to be from Pottstown.”

HIGH SCHOOL

Taylor Goes to Washington

Pottstown High School Senior Taylor Maguire lives up to the belief of “every second counts.” Recently she was selected by the United States Tennis Association Foundation as one of the top 24 student athletes to attend the Haber Regional Career Excellence Program held in Washington DC. The group received exclusive tours of the White House, the Capital and prominent corporation headquarters. The program is designed to broaden students' understanding of potential career paths and develop leadership skills.

Taylor’s belief that every second counts can be seen in her never-ending participation in a wide range of activities. At school, she is a member of the tennis, wrestling and softball teams, and a member of the National Honor Society. She participates in marching, concert and jazz bands. Her activities outside of school include being part of the Reading Buccaneers Drum and Bugle Corps and coaching tennis for the Greater Pottstown Tennis Association. On the weekends she can be found on the dirt racetrack behind the wheel of a midget race car.

at Pottstown High School, I have gained valuable friendships, been given leadership responsibilities and had the opportunity to learn the importance and value of teamwork. It has shown me that hard work and dedication pay off.”

Gaining Court Experience

As a member of the Pottstown High School Girls Tennis team, sophomore Ashlyn Pulinka is gaining valuable on court experience. This summer she gained experience preparing her to fulfill her dream of being a courtroom attorney. Ashlyn took part in the National Youth Leadership Law Form held in Washington DC.

She visited courthouses and observed proceedings while also taking part in a mock trial. The group met with professionals and discovered the specialty career paths available in the law field. They also had the opportunity to meet with officials from George Mason University to take part in admission workshops and campus tours.

Reflecting on her experience Ashlyn said, "I enjoyed not only meeting new people from diverse backgrounds, but also sharing a common passion for law. I really love seeing how my dream job is practiced and learning more about something I'm passionate about."

Hands-on instruction

Students from Pottstown High School Health Occupation program paid a visit to Barth Elementary to give a hands-on lesson on proper way to wash hands as part of a healthy living lifestyle. After applying a lotion that was to stimulate invisible germs on their hands students used the handwashing techniques they were taught. A before and after ultraviolet light hand check was used to show students how successful they were in washing off the invisible "germs". They quickly learned what it takes to have clean hands and the high school students got hands-on real-life health services experience.

Auto Tech Students get a jumpstart

Thanks to a generous donation from the PHS class of 1963, graduating seniors from the auto technology program will receive a jumpstart on their careers. The $1700 donation will be used to purchase a full set of mechanic tools, necessary for young auto mechanics entering the field.

Mr. Mike Hewitt, auto technology instructor for the high school, said, "We appreciate alumni supporting our students. This donation will be instrumental in helping to give our graduating seniors a jumpstart on a successful career." The members of the Class of '63 are another example of our belief, "Once a Trojan, a Trojan Forever". Thank you for giving us another reason to say, proud to be from Pottstown!

There's no place like Home

There's no place like Pottstown High School when it comes to homecoming celebrations. The weeklong Spirit Week activities included hall decorations, an old school style bonfire Thursday night, a pep rally with classes competing against one another in an assortment of games, announcing the homecoming court along with the king and queen at halftime of the football game and concluding with a Saturday night homecoming dance, that students had to meet academic standards to be eligible to attend and of course Trojan Man was always on hand to show TROJAN PRIDE. We welcomed many of our alumni who returned to take part in all of the activities, including alumni members of the band and cheerleaders who took part in Friday night's events. Class reunions are also a part of homecoming with the classes of '74 and '64 celebrating their Trojan Pride over the weekend.

They're in the Finals

Congratulations to Miranda Pineda and Aniyah Wells, they are finalists in the Questbridge National College match program. Questbridge connects high achieving students with top colleges across the country. This year over 20,000 applications have been received and our two PHS seniors are among the 6,000 finalists. In order to be selected as a finalist applicants had to demonstrate strong, writing skills and intellectual curiosity, plus resilience, integrity, and motivation to succeed. The four-year scholarship covers tuition, room, board, books and other expenses with a four-year value approximately $325,000.

Here's what our finalists had to say:

Aniyah Wells

"Initially the Questbridge application was very overwhelming when I saw the length of the application, but with the help of Mrs. Pritt, it became much easier. I'm extremely proud of the essays I wrote and the excitement of being selected as a finalist was well worth the work. The chance of being given a full ride to major in nursing is such a privilege. I hope to use it to become an ultrasound technician and continue the legacy of proud to be from Pottstown :)"

Miranda Pineda

"When I learned I was selected as a finalist, I felt a sense of disbelief. It was a moment that affirmed my hard work had truly paid off. I hope to match with a school that allows me to major in finance and pursue my passion of becoming a businesswoman in the coming years focusing on financial and economic literacy. Eventually, I'd like to establish my own financial firm within a few years."

FALLEN TROJAN STAFF

- Randy S. Blackwell, 67, husband of the late Leslye (Moyer) Blackwell, passed away Monday November 11, 2024, at Pottstown Hospital. Born October 23, 1957, he was the son of Raymond Blackwell Jr. and the late Jeanne (Yeager) Blackwell. Randy graduated from North Schuylkill High School, class of 1975. Following graduation, he worked as a laborer for BF Goodrich, Dana Corporation, and J&L Manufacturing before finding his calling as the Attendance Supervisor for Pottstown High School. He coached little league baseball for Pottstown PAL for many years, and also served as Cub Master for Boy Scouts of America. Randy was a member of the Prayer Warriors at New Ridge Fellowship Church.

Donations may be made in Randy's memory to: The American Cancer Society at <https://www.cancer.org/> or Gift of Life Organ

Donor Program at <https://www.donors1.org/>.

- Elaine Ellison, 74, passed away on Thursday, November 14 at the Reading Hospital. Born in Reading, Pennsylvania, she was the daughter of Bubber T. Ellison and Julia Mae (Copeland) Ellison. She graduated from the Exeter School District. She furthered her education by receiving her Bachelors degree from Kutztown University and her Master's degree. All of which was put to good use after being hired by the Pottstown School District. Elaine began as a substitute teacher in January 1974. She became a staff teacher 9/3/1974. She worked first at Jefferson, then Franklin, and then Middle School. She coached boys and girls High School track and tennis. Elaine retired from Pottstown in 2005. After retiring from Pottstown, she coached at Exeter High School. For 30 years, she had been the high school girls track and field coach, and the high school girls tennis coach (for 18 years). At the middle school, she coached the girls basketball team for 28 years. As the basketball coach, she finished with three undefeated seasons. She remarked, "it's very hard to have one undefeated season, but three is remarkable!" Elaine loved teaching basketball fundamentals to the young middle school players which got them "hooked on the game." Pottstown High School Athletic Director Gary DeRenzo called Elaine a true trailblazer. "The reality about Elaine is she has done what very few people do, she was a pioneer for African-American women to get into education and to get into coaching at a very young age." He also stated "the fact that she stayed in it for so long and coached three sports is unheard of anymore from anybody. You just can't find coaches that coach three sports. I have a lot of respect for her being an educator and a coach for that period of time is extremely commendable and just amazing." Elaine will be missed by many, but surely most by the children and young high school ladies she taught so much in the classroom, on the track and field, tennis courts and hardwood. Pottstown girls varsity coach John Chernesky stated that "she was more than a coach, she was a mom to them a lot of the time. She promoted basketball to them and a lot of girls stayed with basketball and enjoyed it just because coach Ellison was there. She was so important to the kids' lives beyond basketball." After more than three decades of teaching and coaching, it was time to retire and explore other avenues life had to offer.

He did not qualify for the finals, but represented our school and community with pride, honor, and good sportsmanship. Thanks for giving us another reason to say, proud to be from Pottstown.

- PHS Grads Building Her Future - Trojan Proud of Janelle Whitehurst Durkin - Class of 2011. She attended the University of Richmond, majoring in business administration with a concentration in marketing and rhetoric. When asked for some words of wisdom to share with today's PHS students, she said, "Participate, participate, participate!! The joy of high school is exploring your interest and hanging out with your friends. Stay involved in clubs, activities and sports. Stay involved in your community. That helped me be prepared for post grad life and has prepared me to build my future. Some of my best friends are people I met in high school co-curricular activities. Memories for a lifetime."

- PHS Grad pursues success at every level – Jasheel Brown, Pottstown High School class of 2013, has pursued success at every level. As a PHS Trojan he was a district champion wrestler, member of the Reading Olympics, Key Club and Student Government, He was an advanced placement student and was even eighth grade spelling bee champion. He carried his strong work ethic to the University of Pennsylvania, where he majored in material sciences and engineering. While at Penn he became a two-time national champion in the martial art of Taekwondo. He was a member of the National Society of Black Engineers. His quest for knowledge led him to successfully completing four courses in Korean language, and two in Korean history. Brown entered the workforce as an associate scientist for a biopharmaceutical company where he worked on developing more effective and efficient forms of oral medication. His success continued as an electronics manufacturing engineer where he oversaw the production of circuit boards used in various aerospace, military, and consumer applications. Jasheel has used his interest and passion for athletic competition to support his other passion for social change while in college he was selected to travel to Brazil as part of a youth group sponsored by the US government, designed to bring leadership training and explore how sports, community centers and volunteering can impact social change. His words of wisdom to the students of PHS, live life, actively and passionately, pursue your interest, and everything will be OK. Learn as much as you can on your own, school is primarily about how to learn and how to think, learning and achieving is cool. PHS prepared me for college and the world by offering a solid education that I could effectively build upon and look back to for reference. The diversity of our town and school is an extremely beneficial experience. I am very glad and lucky that I was able to learn from so many different walks of life and be heavily influenced by those different backgrounds. I am definitely an amalgamation of every student, teacher, friend, coach, and parent that I have formed relationships with. Brown's success in the classroom, on the mat and in the workplace are a direct result of his belief that hard work pays off.

- Trojans Forever – If you’ve ever seen one of our district t-shirts, you know we believe “Once a Trojan, a Trojan Forever.” Being teammates on a Trojan athletic team helps to build that strong sense of pride that carries from high school into the adult world. As members of the PHS girls’ soccer team, Amira Mohamed (PHS class of 2013) and Kiersten Cruz (PHS class of 2015) built a lifelong bond. They worked together for team success. Fast-forward to 2024, the same teammates are still on the soccer field only this time as opposing coaches. When Pottstown Middle School girls soccer team, coached by Cruz, stepped onto the field at Perkiomen Valley she faced Mohamed as the opposing coach. After the game, both coaches reflected on the experience and their time as teammates.

- Mohamed said, “From teammates to coaches, Kiersten has always been a pleasure to work with. I’ve always had a deep appreciation for her passion and craft towards soccer. When I was given the opportunity to coach this year, she was one of the first people I thought of. Now, having played against one another, I am even more excited for what’s to come next. Graduating from PHS has given me the tools to become the coach I am today. Without the variety of activities offered, I wouldn’t have been prepared to multitask during soccer and the school day as a professional at the middle school level.”
- Cruise observed, “Transitioning from being teammates to rival coaches has been a great experience. There’s a deep mutual respect and understanding of each other’s skills and strategies sharpened by our experiences at Pottstown High School. It is exciting to see us both give back to the sport we love. Engaging in activities at PHS allowed me to build lasting friendships and networks. The support from my former teachers and coaches motivated me to give back and become a role model and mentor for the next generation. Ultimately, reflecting the lasting legacy of those who supported me.”

The moral of the story ~ Once a Trojan, Trojan forever! More reason to say, “Proud to be from Pottstown.”

- PHS grad engineering his way to success - Pottstown High School grad, Aaron Laws, Class of 2023 is well on the road to a successful future, presently attending Montgomery County Community College majoring in mechanical engineering. He is gaining valuable experience as an intern at Pottstown Dana Corporation. Recently he assisted in guiding a class of middle school students who are part of the MONCO 360 program which provides advanced STEM education opportunities for students. Aaron told the class he chose engineering because of his general interest in science and technology and that he loves seeing his ideas come to life. He hopes that his interest in problem-solving will lead him to stable career opportunities. Reflecting on his high school days, he said, Pottstown School District prepared me with the educational, social and emotional foundation needed for success at the next level. Thanks to the high school engineering program I gained valuable hands-on knowledge. The program equipped me with the skills that I use day-to-day at my internship such as how to use precision measurement tools, how to use power tools and hand tools, how to use CAD software, and most importantly how to use critical thinking to create solutions to problems. Trojan proud of Aaron Laws. Glad to see his hard work paying off. Thanks for giving us another reason to say, proud to be from Pottstown.
